EXPLANATORY NOTE

The attached document is a letter from Mellon Investor Services LLC, the transfer agent of HAPC, INC. (“HAPC”) to brokers, banks and custodians providing instructions for conversion of shares of common stock, par value $0.0001 per share (the “Common Stock”) of HAPC, held by them on behalf of beneficial holders should such beneficial holders (i) vote against HAPC’s acquisition of InfuSystem, Inc. pursuant to the Stock Purchase Agreement, dated as of September 29, 2006, by and among HAPC, Iceland Acquisition Subsidiary, Inc., InfuSystem, Inc. and I-Flow Corporation and (ii) as permitted by HAPC’s certificate of incorporation, elect to convert their shares of Common Stock into their pro rata portion of the trust account into which a substantial portion of the net proceeds of HAPC’s initial public offering were deposited.

Terms of Conversion of for
HAPC, INC. Common Stock (CUSIP: 411357106)

September 18, 2007

To Brokers, Banks, Nominees and Other Custodians:

HAPC, INC., a Delaware corporation (“HAPC”) has scheduled a special annual meeting (the “Meeting”) to take place on Wednesday, September 26, 2007, at 10:00 a.m. (local time) at the offices of Morgan Lewis & Bockius LLP located at 101 Park Avenue, New York, New York 10178. Among the proposals to be considered by stockholders at the Meeting is HAPC’s proposed acquisition of all of the issued and outstanding capital stock of InfuSystem, Inc. pursuant to the terms of that certain Stock Purchase Agreement, dated as of September 29, 2006, by and among HAPC, Iceland Acquisition Subsidiary, Inc., InfuSystem, Inc. and I-Flow Corporation (the “Acquisition Proposal”). Stockholders of record as of August 6, 2007 (the “Record Date”) who hold shares of HAPC’s common stock, par value $0.0001 per share (the “Common Stock”) issued in connection with HAPC’s initial public offering (the “IPO”), or subsequently purchased in the open market, may demand that their shares of Common Stock be converted into their pro rata portion of the trust account into which a substantial portion of the net proceeds of HAPC’s IPO were deposited. In order for such a stockholder to convert its shares of Common Stock into its pro rata portion of the proceeds held in the trust account, such stockholder must vote against the Acquisition Proposal and check the box on the enclosed proxy card electing to convert its shares into cash.

If the Acquisition Proposal is approved, HAPC will convert these shares of Common Stock into the applicable pro rata portion of the funds held in the trust account. As of July 31, 2007, approximately $100,663,381 was held in deposit in the trust account. The proceeds available in the trust account as of July 31, 2007 would provide for an initial per-share liquidation price of $5.97, less income taxes owed on accrued interest.

If (i) the holders of 20%, or 3,375,050, or more shares of Common Stock issued in HAPC’s IPO at the Record Date vote against the Acquisition Proposal and demand the conversion of their shares into a pro rata portion of the trust account or (ii) less than a majority of the holders of Common Stock issued in connection with the IPO at the Record Date vote for the Acquisition Proposal, HAPC will not be able to consummate the acquisition of InfuSystem, Inc. and those stockholders who voted against the acquisition and elected to convert their shares of Common Stock into cash will not be entitled to such conversion and will retain their shares of Common Stock.

If your client exercises their conversion rights, then it will be exchanging its shares of Common Stock for cash and will no longer own these shares. Qualified stockholders (those stockholders who purchased shares of Common Stock issued in connection with the IPO or subsequently purchased them in the open market and held such shares as of the Record Date) will only be entitled to receive cash for the shares if they continue to hold these shares through the closing date of HAPC’s acquisition of InfuSystem, Inc. and then tender their shares of Common Stock for conversion.

If you have questions or require additional copies of the definitive proxy statement filed by HAPC with the U.S. Securities Exchange Commission (the "SEC") and mailed to stockholders as of the Record Date on August 8, 2007 or the enclosed supplemental proxy statement filed by HAPC with the SEC on September 18, 2007 and mailed to stockholders as of the Record Date on September 18, 2007, please call D.F. King & Co. at 1-212-232-2228.

Sincerely,

Mellon Investor Services LLC
